

David Tai

Profile

As a Senior HR Manager, David has been in HR for 14 years. He has served in many different industries, including travelling, construction & development, wholesaler and industrial engineering, etc. The company size he has served can be as large as 600 headcounts and as small as about 30 headcounts.

Before he became a vimiCoach, he was the HR Head of vimigo. He found that SMEs do have many challenges and needs in talent management during that time, but not every SMEs has the opportunity to get the right person to help. So, he decided to make a move to be vimiCoach to help more SMEs through this platform. As for now, he has assisted at least 20 top managements including entrepreneur and 200 employees to perform talent management change in their companies.

His motivation always comes from his vision, "A win-win in workplace for Employee and Employer". This vision is derived from his belief that work is a bless from God, it should be exciting and joyful. "Monday Blue" should never exist in anyone life!
